

March 11, 2013

The Larger Picture

The Immorality of Increasing Production in Salmon Farms and the Rest of the Food Industry

Marine Harvest, among other aquaculture corporations, and along with many other food-producing corporations, claims that it is vital to increase production to feed a growing population. This article, which will be published in three parts, explains why the opposite is true.

Read the whole article here:

<https://largerpicture.wordpress.com/2013/03/11/the-immorality-of-increasing-production-in-salmon-farms-and-the-rest-of-the-food-industry/>